EXPERT VIEW

DT's Aradhya Dua caught up with Ms Rashmi Chitaranshi, Starz Co- Ordinator, Primary Wing.

for a Q&A session.

Excerpts:

Q: What made you choose a career in teaching?

Teaching has always been a significant part of my life. My father was a teacher, and growing up, I had the privilege of seeing him educate and inspire countless children. Watching him make a difference in the lives of his students left a profound impact on me.

Ms. Rashmi Chitaranshi

Q: One of the most memorable quotes is "You teach, hoping someday you'll get it right." Looking back on your career, do you think you did?

Looking back on my career, I believe I did get it right. Teaching is a journey of continuous growth and learning, both for the students and for me as an educator. When my old students come and greet me and share their success stories, I feel immense pleasure and I feel grateful to God for being a teacher.

Q: What is your teaching philosophy?

My teaching philosophy centers around learning and growing together. I am someone who learns from my students as much as they learn from me. I believe that teaching should never be forceful. Instead, it should inspire curiosity and a love for learning.

A thought for today

"Concentrate all your thoughts upon the work in hand. The Sun's rays do not burn until brought to a focus."

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL

Whispers of Existence

Life isn't all that it seems
In childhood, you are protected from the world
You don't know an ounce of what is out there
You are protected by this invisible shield your parents create around you

You are safe from every existing evil
Your parents sacrifice to fulfill your wants
The world becomes the warmest place you know
Embracing us as we grow

Where does childhood go?
To a forgotten place, hidden in the little infant's face
When does it go?
Is it when we come across betrayal and hate?

But as you grow up, you come face to face with the reality of the world
This reality is harsh
At this point you begin to realise
That life isn't all it seems

GARDENIAS BLACK SHADOW

Pearl white Gardenias bloom alongside the still leaves,
The dewy leaves blooming on the wooden branches, I see Everything seems so well intertwined within the nature, the whole seems so well fit in and defined

Under the exquisite dazzling of the night light,
I lay down, rethinking why isn't humanity tranquil?
Not tranquil even when emotions like gratefulness exist
Late in the serene midnight, i look within me, a soul turned cloudy due to the mists of insecurity

In the heart of the forest, Jealousy lurks like a predator, waiting to pounce on the unsuspecting Unsuspecting signifying the closest ones to your heart Jealousy bounding all of the emotions you had, when you saw the others doing better than that.
Like a fragile flower, i cross the dimness of humanity like a Starry night losing it's shine Losing the shine i had, for the sake of making people happy
