EXPERT VIEW

DT's Pragyaan Tyagi caught up with Ms Neerja Singh, TGT Hindi for a Q&A session.

Excerpts:

Q1. What advice do you have for new teachers entering the field?

For new teachers entering the field, my advice is to be adaptable and open-minded. Every student is unique, so it's important to be flexible in your teaching methods. Building strong relationships and creating a positive learning environment are crucial.

Ms. Neerja Singh

Q2. As an experienced teacher, what do you believe is the most crucial aspect of an effective classroom management?

Establishing and setting clear expectations from the very beginning is imperative for the effective classroom management. A consistent communication and building positive relationships with students contribute to a well-managed and productive learning environment.

Q3. Kindly share a brief overview of your journey as a teacher and what inspired you to pursue this career.

I've always been passionate about shaping young minds. Teaching has been incredibly rewarding, witnessing the growth and development of my students has kept me motivated.

Earth Day Celebration at DPSG MR: Fostering Environmental Consciousness

Niyantara Krishnan

Ghaziabad: Special assemblies were conducted at DPSG MR to commemorate the occasion. Mother Earth was thanked for bestowing us with her bounties. Students presented skits and recited poems to spread awareness about the importance of environmental protection and sustainability. The students and staff pledged to respect all living beings and work for the cause of sustainable development. The Principal, Captain (Dr.) Dinisha Bhardwaj Singh, lauded the efforts of the students and spoke about the importance of saving the environment and preserving natural resources.

PARENTS SPEAK – CD 2020

Mrs. Shivangi Gupta

(M/o Kashvi Gupta, 9 I)

“DPSG MR is more than just a place of education; it's a vibrant and dynamic community where our children thrive and flourish. As parents, we are grateful for the opportunity to be part of this journey.”

Mrs. Sonia Chaudhary

(M/o Ridhi Singh, 9 I)

“The inclusive community and supportive teachers create a nurturing environment where our child flourishes. I deeply appreciate the school's commitment to academic excellence, safe environment and effective communication.”

Mrs. Sakshi Agarwal

(M/o Rishika Agarwal, 9 I)

“The quality of education my child receives and the array of opportunities available to her greatly influence my perspective. I highly value the transparent communication between teachers and parents.”

Mrs. Renu Jain

(M/o Aadya Jain, 9 I)

“I am extremely proud to be a part of the DSPG family. The values and foundation, the school has instilled in my child are priceless. I am very impressed by the teachers, they all are eminent, skilled and professional.”

DT's Evelyn Alex caught up with Ms Shilpa Gopal Sharma, PRT English & TD for a Q&A session. Excerpts:

Q1. What is your teaching philosophy?

I believe in the saying that education is what remains when you have forgotten what you learned in school. Education is the movement from darkness to light. It is the complete development of a human being to reach his or her intellectual and social potential. Justice, respect, tolerance, courage are trademarks of educated people. Education brings happiness, self actualization, fulfillment and purpose to life.

Ms. Shilpa Gopal

Q2. Why do you think literature is fun?

Literature for me is magic unfolding before me. I transform into the world I am reading about. Whether it's the poetry of Robert frost, Anne Frank's Diary or the more recent novels on Shiva or Sita, reading literature is food for my soul. There is no other way to learn so much about myriad generations of human beings except getting totally engrossed in literature. Literature of any genre is cathartic yet exhilarating and intellectually stimulating if the reader is as passionate about it as me.

Sankalp Youth Summit

Divyam Gupta, grade 10, brought laurels to the school at the Sankalp Youth Summit organized at Hansraj College, Delhi University. He received a Special Mention award along with a gold medal for demonstrating exceptional diligence and sincerity.

A thought for today

"Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire."

William Butler Yeats

The jungle stroll

From Jungle Peril to Hospital Miracle: A Tale of Kindness and Survival, writes Aradhya Dua

Joe heard an unusual noise while searching for an unusually rare flower. While strolling in a forest, he began to glance around, but nothing showed up. Joe had been walking for quite a while when he encountered the flower. After picking it up, he was heading home when he unexpectedly encountered an intense burning sensation in his thigh. It was a huge snake that bit him. Using a stick, he scared the snake away. "I should try to find the exit, John murmured on the verge of passing out. He attempted to walk while close to the exit but stumbled and fell. "I doubt I can make it," John moaned in pain. "I am way too far from the hospital to walk there by myself." He was certain he wouldn't live. Suddenly, he heard someone. "Hey, everything fine?" Joe passed out before he could respond. When Joe regained consciousness, he ended up in a hospital. After seeing the same flower on a vase and the same man from the jungle with his parents near his bed. All he could think about was that kind people still exist.

Embracing Individual Brilliance: Finding Your Unique Light in a World of Sun and Moon

In the vast sky's embrace, the sun and moon reside,
Both adorned with beauty, their radiance worldwide.
Yet the sun's brilliance shines, with praise at set and rise,
While the moon's allure captivates in every guise.

A person may feel akin to the sun's fleeting glow,
Finding beauty only when validation does show.
Yearning to be like the moon, cherished round the clock,
Admired by all, in every moment, on every block.

Each student dreams to emulate those they admire,
Yet uniqueness blooms, each one a different fire.
The sun may wish to bask in moonlight's gentle grace,
But in their own light, they find their special place.

Wisdom Tree

The First Ones to Acknowledge The Existence of The Solar System:

While history credits Copernicus for proposing the heliocentric model of our solar system, it was the Rig Veda that first noted the central placement of the sun and other planets orbiting it in the solar system.

Rig Veda
1.164.13

The Rig Veda, dated back over 3,000 years, is the oldest sacred text in Hinduism. Comprising hymns and rituals, it's a spiritual treasure trove, offering insights into ancient Indian wisdom and the pursuit of divine knowledge.

Rig Veda
1.35.9

"The sun moves in its own orbit but holding earth and other heavenly bodies in a manner that they do not collide with each other through force of attraction."

LEMONADE ACTIVITY

With the onset of summer, it gets essential to refresh and replenish our body with some cool beverages to beat the heat. To introduce to our little ones to one such lip-smacking drink a “Lemonade Making Activity” was organised for the students of Grade KG. Our little munchkins had a great time preparing the lemonade by squeezing the lemon, sprinkling the sugar and salt and stirring the mixture with their tiny finger. One could sense the excitement around and their sparkling eyes were worth watching as the delicious lemonade tickled their taste buds on sipping it up. The activity gave out young learners a hands-on experience of making a glass of lemonade and they relished every bit of it..

BOOK COVER DESIGNING COMPETITION

Book cover designing competition held for the students of Grade 5 was a prelude to the ENGLISH WEEK celebrations.

Don't judge a book by its cover but my, it is fun to design various cover pages!! Be it a classic like “Little Women” or a contemporary book like “Don Quixote.” Students of Grade 5 reimagined and made book covers for various books or even fictional books that they might someday get to writing!

The criteria was to present a colourful and eye catching design and to include details about the book.
