FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

"Believe in yourself and all that you are. Know that there is something inside you that is greater than any obstacle." – Christian D. Larson

At DPSG Meerut Road, every learner's journey begins with a simple yet profound belief: What the mind dares to believe, the soul begins to build. When students believe in their potential, they find the courage to explore, the strength to persevere, and the vision to dream big.

This belief is not merely encouraged; it is nurtured each day through a caring environment, inspiring mentors, and enriching learning experiences. Education here goes far beyond academics. It is about shaping individuals through experiences that ignite curiosity, build resilience, and foster a lifelong pursuit of excellence.

DPSG Meerut Road is one of the most sought-after CBSE and IB World Schools in the country, known for its forward-looking approach to learning and holistic development. Guided by Curriculum Design 2020, our student-centric pedagogy emphasizes inquiry-led, project-based learning, perfectly aligned with the vision of NEP 2020 to nurture engaged, holistic, and lifelong learners

For students of Grades 11 and 12, our IB Diploma Programme (IBDP) empowers learners to pursue their passions and shape purposeful, impactful futures. Our IBDP graduates are welcomed by top universities across the globe—not only for their academic achievements but also for their confidence, compassion, ethical grounding, and global vision.

We are proud to be the world's largest IB Primary Years Programme (PYP) school, offering a dynamic, future-ready model of learning for our grades 1-5 learners. The Primary Years Programme nurtures curious, critical thinkers with a global outlook and a strong foundation of values.

Our commitment to redefining education ensures that every DPSGite is equipped with the competencies and character needed to navigate the complexities of the 21st century with clarity, confidence, and compassion.

Beyond the classroom, a wide spectrum of Foundational Domain (Performing Arts, Visual Arts and Vocational Arts) opportunities allows students to explore interests, discover new talents, and grow as well-rounded individuals.

Best wishes!

DPSGMR CRICKETERS SET FOR INTER-DISTRICT GLORY!

Abhinav Kaushik (Grade XI) and Rajsuya Kumar Singh (Grade XII) of DPSG Meerut Road have been selected to represent Ghaziabad District in the Under-19 Inter-District Cricket Matches, to be held at Alfa Cricket Ground, Raj Nagar Extension. This prestigious selection marks a significant achievement and paves the way for their participation in the upcoming Inter-Zone Cricket Tournament.

Their exemplary dedication, discipline, and passion for the sport have brought great pride to the institution. This accomplishment is a testament to their relentless pursuit of excellence and reflects the school's unwavering commitment to nurturing talent beyond the academic sphere.

The Sports Department at DPSG Meerut Road continues to provide robust training and meaningful opportunities that enable young athletes to thrive and excel. Abhinav and Rajsuya exemplify the spirit of perseverance and teamwork, serving as role models for aspiring cricketers across the campus.

This milestone also underscores the invaluable role played by the school's coaches and mentors, whose consistent guidance and encouragement have contributed significantly to the players' growth and success. The entire DPSG Meerut Road community extends its best wishes to the young sportsmen as they embark on the next phase of their cricketering journey.

INFINITUS 2025: IGNITING YOUNG MINDS THROUGH AI AND INNOVATION

Where Future Tech Leaders Compete, Collaborate, Create

Ghaziabad: The Annual Inter School IT Fest-INFINITUS organised by the school was a celebration of digital brilliance and innovation, bringing together budding minds from 30 esteemed schools across the country. With the theme "AI Beyond Sight: Transforming Dreams into Digital Realities", the fest offered a dynamic platform for students to showcase their technical prowess, creative thinking, and futuristic ideas across a wide array of competitions.

The fest was honoured by the gracious presence of Chief Guest, Dr. Archana Sharma, Head of the Department of Computer Applications, Delhi Technical Campus, Greater Noida, an eminent academician with a specialization in Mobile Databases. Also gracing the event was Mr. Amit Gupta, Parent Ambassador and Head of Information Technology, Delhi Public School Ghaziabad Society.

The Principal, Ms. Priti Wason extended a warm welcome to all dignitaries, participants, and mentors. According to her, INFINITUS is not merely a competition but a tribute to curiosity, innovation, and the spirit of digital transformation that defines the ethos of DPSG Meerut Road.

The day was marked by a host of exciting and intellectually stimulating competitions, each designed to challenge students' technical abilities and creative thinking. Events like Script 'N' Scratch, Minecraft Mania, Python Panache, Software Alchemist, Webpage Weaver and Cinemania tested the limits of logic, design, strategy, and technical execution.

The event concluded with the Vote of Thanks proposed by Ms. Manisha Sharma, Headmistress, Senior Wing, INFINITUS 2025 was indeed a resounding success—a true convergence of knowledge, creativity, and the digital dreams of tomorrow.

FORGIVENESS DAY AT DPSG MR!

By Kriti Negi

Compassionate and empathetic students of DPSGMR!

Ghaziabad: The Secondary Wing of DPSG Meerut Road celebrated World Forgiveness Day with great enthusiasm and heart. A special session was conducted for students of Grades 8 and 9 to highlight the power and importance of forgiveness in our lives. The event began with an open discussion where students shared personal reflections and powerful quotes, exploring forgiveness as a path to inner peace and emotional balance. Creative activities, such as poster-making and writing forgiveness letters, helped students cultivate empathy, compassion, and self-awareness. The celebration beautifully reinforced the idea that forgiveness isn't just an act—it's a way of life, essential for building a harmonious and peaceful society. Overall, the programme was a meaningful step in nurturing emotional intelligence and character development among students.

EXPERT VIEW

DT's Aarav Garg caught up with Ms Sakshi Dutt, PYP favilitator Primary Wing for a Q&A session.

Ms. Sakshi Dutt

1. What is your philosophy of education?

Education should empower students to think critically, act ethically, and engage with the world. I foster inquiry, voice, and agency while nurturing internationally minded learners through real-life connections and reflection. My role is to guide them toward meaningful action through curiosity and compassion.

2. Describe your style of teaching.

My teaching is inquiry-led, concept-based, and student-centred. I guide learning through questioning, collaboration, and hands-on experiences, while celebrating diversity and supporting every learner. The classroom becomes a space where learners construct meaning, not just receive knowledge.

3. What rules and rewards have worked in your classroom in the past?

I co-create essential agreements based on mutual respect and the Learner Profile. I use positive reinforcement like praise, privileges, and recognitions that support intrinsic motivation. Recognition is tied to effort, empathy, and growth—not just achievement.

4. How do you motivate students?

By linking learning to their interests, offering choice and voice, and celebrating progress. I use real-world tasks, collaborative projects, and reflection to keep them engaged and self-driven. I encourage self-assessment and goal-setting to build confidence and autonomy.

RETHINKING ACADEMIC SUCCESS: MORE THAN JUST GRADES

"The difference between a stumbling block and a stepping stone is how high you raise your foot."

Academic achievement—what does it truly mean?

For many students, it's become synonymous with high marks and glowing report cards. But is this narrow definition of success fair? Or even healthy? It's time we ask the hard question: Are we pushing children towards excellence, or pushing them over the edge? The pressure of academic achievement today has reached a tipping point. Often, it's driven by the expectations of parents, teachers, and society at large. Ironically, while we continue to claim that every child is unique, we still use a one-size-fits-all standard to measure their worth. The result? A dilemma: Should a student strive for academic glory or preserve their mental well-being?

Academic success should not be the ultimate goal; instead, it should be part of a broader process. This journey should aim to develop logical thinkers, effective communicators, problem solvers, and emotionally intelligent individuals. We need to value the development of these lifelong skills just as much—if not more—than scores on a piece of paper. Yes, academic pressure can be overwhelming. But overcoming such challenges also equips students with important coping mechanisms, helping them develop resilience and emotional intelligence—skills that are crucial in real life.

Let's reframe academic achievement not as a finish line, but as a meaningful, personal journey. In doing so, we can create a system that supports every student's growth—not just their grades.

THE SILENCE THAT STANDS

The pretty eraser that I used to save for last,
Soon got lost in this world so vast.
What a precious little thing it was for me,
What happened? Where did the excitement go in me?
The one everyone used to see.
Where is the girl who used to be so free?
Maybe deep in, she is still in me.
As time passed by, she got lost,
The girl who acted fearlessly without caring about its cost.
Deep down, I still talk to her,
Tell her I miss her
But she doesn't seem to understand
What happened to me?
truly, neither do I
what else could u tell her than a goodbye?
